School Development Day

On Monday this week, the Sadleir teaching staff participated in a day of professional learning focused on the implementation of the new NSW Syllabuses for the Australian Curriculum. The implementation of these documents will bring some changes to the way that we teach and what we teach at Sadleir Public School. The new curriculum includes a focus on problem solving, critical thinking, using ICT purposefully, engaging with scientific principles, acting with integrity, developing good literacy and numeracy skills, engaging with Aboriginal cultures and histories and having a deep knowledge of key subject based concepts.

Teachers unpacked important aspects of the new curriculum including research based 21st century learning strategies that will implemented in classes over the coming semester. These strategies will assist all teachers to support all our students to become successful learners, confident individuals and active informed citizens.

A big thanks to all the teachers for their contributions and to Miss Collas and Mrs Byrnes for organising and presenting the day. In the afternoon teachers updated their Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) qualifications in a workshop run by Miss Collas.
